Complaints, requests, welfare fund, standards

As Ombudsman, I can delegate my powers and functions as they relate to complaints, requests, welfare fund reviews and case standards in the following ways.

- Delegated authority for individuals to act under my powers relevant to the staff role to which they have been appointed, as set out in the agreed job descriptions, following successful completion of induction and probationary periods. The powers delegated to each staff role are set out in policies and guidance with which all staff must confirm they are familiar and comply.
- 2. All delegated decision-making powers must be exercised in accordance with the SPSO handbooks, guidance, and policies. This includes all contractual terms, job descriptions, and the behaviour and conduct policy. Staff must declare actual or potential conflicts of interest both in general and in relation to specific decisions.
- 3. Delegation of my powers shall not prevent me from exercising those functions personally.
- 4. Any of the delegated powers conferred under this Scheme may be withdrawn by me on a permanent or temporary basis, or amended at any time without prior notice.
- 5. I may withdraw relevant delegated powers and decisions from any individual member of staff on a permanent or temporary basis with regard to their specific role at that time. When doing so, I will notify the individual member of staff in writing.
- 6. Members of staff who are temporarily promoted into any of the relevant roles listed in the Scheme will take on the delegated authority applicable to the role only for the remainder of their period of temporary promotion.
- 7. All delegated powers and authorities listed in the Scheme are assigned to specific roles only and are not transferrable. Any member of staff who moves to another role within will normally relinquish all delegated authority given to them in their previous role upon leaving that post unless I authorise that to continue for a period of transition or to support office-wide workload management.
- 8. To improve office resilience, support business continuity or respond to workloads, I may from time-to-time delegate additional powers to an individual post-holder that is not normally held within their role. Such delegation will be in writing.
- 9. Notification of any changes to the Scheme will be made and circulated in writing.

The section below sets out in broad terms, the areas that are delegated to each role subject to the detail given in policy and guidance.
